

Agrify Corporation Announces Turnkey Solventless Extraction Equipment Contract with Massachusetts-Based Company Blackstone Valley Cannabis

March 20, 2024

TROY, Mich., March 20, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Agrify Corporation (Nasdaq: AGFY) ("Agrify" or the "Company"), a leading provider of innovative cultivation and extraction solutions for the cannabis industry, today announced the signing of a Turnkey Solventless Extraction and Lab Equipment Package with Blackstone Valley Cannabis ("Blackstone Valley" or the "Customer"), a licensed vertical operator based in Uxbridge, MA.

Blackstone Valley Cannabis has purchased Pure Pressure's Turnkey Solventless Extraction and Lab Equipment Package, which includes an Axis Trichome Separator Hash Washing and Filtration package along with a Longs Peak Rosin Press with automated pressure control. In addition, Blackstone Valley Cannabis has also elected Agrify's 6-day on-site Advanced Solventless Training package, where Agrify's Solventless Extraction Expert will train Blackstone Valley Cannabis' team on Hash Washing, Freeze Drying, Pressing, Jar Tech, Mechanical Separation, and Vape Cart Formulation techniques.

Raymond Chang, Chairman and CEO of Agrify, shared that "We are pleased that our industry leading quality equipment paired with an aggressive sales strategy is continuing to result in significant customer acquisitions across multiple states. Our sales team has worked tirelessly to build a robust pipeline of new business that is expanding our footprint. It is wonderful to partner with a local and independent cannabis operator in Massachusetts that prides themselves on pursuing quality without compromise. Their dedicated and female-empowered team is the exact type of partners we pride ourselves in supporting. Agrify's Turnkey Solventless Extraction and Lab Equipment package will allow Blackstone Valley Cannabis to create some of the most unique solventless-based products that will be offered into the Massachusetts market."

Justine Vota, Extraction Laboratory & Kitchen Manager at BVC said, "We at Blackstone Valley Cannabis are extremely excited to be utilizing Pure Pressure Solventless Extraction equipment for our Hash-washing and Rosin-pressing endeavors. Our goal here at BVC is to produce the highest quality Live Rosin products from our meticulously cared-for cultivar and set a new standard for Solventless Extracts here in Massachusetts. I am eagerly looking forward to our hands-on training with their renowned Extraction Expert, "Rosin Ryan," as I have been a long-time admirer of his work and commitment to outstanding extracts. We in the Extraction Department have a tremendous "passion for hashin" and cannot wait to display that passion with Agrify's exceptionally designed equipment."

About Blackstone

Blackstone Valley Cannabis was founded in 2018 by local industry pioneers who believe in the power of cannabis to change lives. Blackstone Valley's mission is a commitment to quality, without compromise. By controlling the flower cultivation, harvest and processing BVC will ensure it brings the highest quality melts to market; fire in; fire out as they say. Today, Blackstone Valley cultivates and extracts cannabis products in their 24,000 square feet facility to offer the freshest, highest-quality cannabis products at their recreational dispensary in Uxbridge. In addition, Blackstone Valley Cannabis has been recently awarded a Medical Marijuana Treatment Center (MTC) license. This license will allow the Blackstone Valley to acquire, cultivate, possess, process, transport, sell, distribute, deliver, dispense or administer medical cannabis to registered qualifying patients or their personal caregivers for medical use.

Blackstone Valley's commitment to producing quality products without compromise is evident in every gram of product they produce; this investment in Pure Pressure solventless equipment demonstrates Blackstone Valley's commitment to providing the best products on the market to its patients and consumers.
